

Investigate delay in ambulance response

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record
Illinois State Police District 11 has launched an investigation into an accident during icy road conditions last week which left a seriously-injured 16-year-old Madison High School student on the McCambridge Viaduct southeast of Madison for approximately 20 minutes before an ambulance arrived. The young woman was continuing to fight for her life this morning.

The time lapse between the dispatch for an ambulance and its arrival at the scene of the serious accident involving two automobiles on the viaduct Wednesday was due to inclement weather, according to Ed Morton, manager of Campbell Ambulance Service.

Within a 45-minute period, the service was dispatched to six accidents, two of which were serious, Morton said. The McCambridge accident, which involved two members of the Madison High School girls' basketball team and a friend, occurred at about 5:15 p.m. when an automobile driven by Geraldine Wedeman, 32, of Fenton, Mo., spun out of control after hitting a patch of ice.

Kimberly Goes, 16, of 2036 Hildebrand St., Cloverleaf Addition, was driving the other automobile and, according to an Illinois State police report, she could not avoid the vehicle which hit her auto head-on. Laura Piechocinski, 17, of 2021 Collinsville Ave., and Christina Corp, 16, of 2029 Troy Ave., in Madison, were passengers in the automobile, which was enroute to catch a bus taking the basketball team to a regional game at Assumption.

Both Miss Goes and Miss Piechocinski are recuperating following surgery at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Miss Corp was listed Friday in serious condition with a depressed skull fracture at Firmin Desloge Hospital in St. Louis. She was transferred there by Campbell Ambulance Service.

At 5:23 p.m., Madison police received a call for an ambulance from Madison County sheriff's deputies, who arrived first on the scene. Madison dispatcher Harry Peterson said he told county police that the accident was not in the city's jurisdiction, but he offered to make a call to Campbell.

College district praised

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record
Community College District 522, which plans to lease Granite City High School North, has been praised by local residents and officials for the manner in which it has operated and maintained its present daytime center, Washington School.

Day classes are to be moved from Washington into the college's new Granite City Center at North, which also will be the scene of night classes that now are conducted at GCHS South. North is one of six schools being closed in June by Granite City District Nine. It is to be reopened as a college this fall.

Ratification of a long-term lease for the 450 Maryville Road campus is set for Wednesday night's meeting of the Belleville Area College board. The lease also is on the March 22 agenda of the Granite City Board of Education.

Contrary to rumors, the school district has not received competing offers to lease or buy the school. Among the reports denied by school officials is one supposedly involving a 700-employee business.

GCHS North, a multi-million-dollar facility, is not inexpensive to operate, due to its large size. But the cost can be afforded by BAC, college officials say, and the design of the ten-year-old, air-conditioned school has been described as excellent for community college needs and purposes.

BAC will be shouldering both utility costs and other expenses in providing a two-year college program and "lifelong learning" opportunities for residents of southern Madison County and environs.

Caucus led by Wolf seeks fair steel import, export rules

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record
The Illinois Steel Caucus was formed Thursday at Springfield by state legislators, with Chairman Sam W. Wolf of Granite City pledging active efforts to help the depressed steel industry.

Plans include a symposium this spring addressed by economists and by leaders of the United Steelworkers of America, steelmaking firms and federal agencies, State Rep. Wolf told the Press-Record.

In addition to electing Wolf, a Granite City Democrat, as chairman, the Steel Caucus chose Rep. Robert Piel, South Holland Republican, as vice-chairman and Rep. Sam Panyanovich, Chicago Democrat, as secretary-treasurer.

A constitution and bylaws were adopted by the group, which decided to invite Illinois state senators to participate as well as Illinois House members.

Continuing steel import problems will be among the issues dealt with by the Steel Caucus, Wolf related.

In contacting other legislators as needs of the people I represent. As a state official, I realize the responsibility we have to offer assistance to one of our most important industries and one of our largest employers.

Weber gift inquiry dropped

Madison County State's Attorney Don W. Weber says State Board of Elections investigators have dropped an inquiry into his campaign financial reporting after finding no evidence of error.

A statement is scheduled to be made later today by a state board spokesman.

The prosecutor says all questions were answered and all desired campaign fund records were produced, verifying that filing was done properly and that no contributions were omitted.

A lawyer—who was about to receive a three-year prison term on Weber's recommendation to the judge—alleged contributing unreported sums to the 1980 election campaign.

JACK FROST'S LAST FLING? Few people saw anything good or especially beautiful about last week's "freak" snowfall, but a closer examination of the snow would have unfolded a micro-world of perfectly symmetrical flakes, each one unique, easily seen on windows and even coat sleeves. These snowflakes, photographed at many times their real size, appear to be stopped cold during their fall to earth.

Dune buggy fatality

Robert Charles Jones, 28, of 1200 Market St., Venice, was pronounced dead at 4 p.m. Sunday by Madison County Deputy Coroner Bill Sternberg after Mr. Jones was thrown from a dune buggy north of the Merchants Bridge in Madison.

Michael Bazzell, driver of the dune buggy, said that he was approached by Mr. Jones, who sought a ride in the vehicle. Bazzell agreed and Mr. Jones got into the buggy, which was equipped with rollbars. Bazzell said that the buggy went over a high spot in the trail and he lost control of it.

Fear measles outbreak

William L. Kempiners, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, is advising parents that outbreaks of measles occurred in Illinois and western Indiana.

All children at 15 months of age, or as soon as thereafter as possible, should be immunized for measles. Kempiners related. In areas of measles outbreak, a child who is at least six months of age may be given measles vaccine, but a reimmunization must be given at 15 months of age to ensure protection.

There is no upper age limit on receiving measles vaccine.

Measles immunization is not recommended for pregnant women; persons with leukemia, lymphoma or other generalized neoplasms; severe illness; active tuberculosis not under treatment; or allergy to neomycin.

Measles is often a severe disease, frequently complicated by middle ear infection of bronchopneumonia.

Encephalitis occurs in approximately one of every 2,000 reported cases; survivors may have permanent brain damage and mental retardation.

Bright's resignation prompts Toffant to seek re-election

By JIM SCHLUETER

Madison County Sheriff Emil Toffant says that the resignation of Maj. Fred Bright will prompt him, Toffant, to run again in 1986. "I wanted to see him (Bright) be a candidate for sheriff in 1986, and I would have endorsed him," Toffant said. "But now I'm coming back out again in 1986, if I'm still around."

Bright, the director of operations at the sheriff's department, announced last week that he is leaving law enforcement to become a State Farm Insurance agent in East Alton, his home town. He and Maj. Ewin Knezevich, director of administration, are Toffant's two top assistants.

Bright came to the sheriff's department when Toffant was first elected sheriff four years ago. He had been police chief of East Alton for 6½ years and has spent 18 years in law enforcement.

Although Toffant was hoping Bright would consider running for sheriff, Bright said he has no desire to seek political office.

"I have no intention or ambition of running for sheriff," Bright said. "My goal is to be with my new career in 10 to 15 years from now. I want to learn as much as I can be as successful as I can."

Bright said he was not looking to leave his post in county law enforcement when he heard about the State Farm job.

"It's a tremendous business opportunity to work for that type of company," Bright said. "I will be my own boss... what I get will be from my own initiative. I've never been afraid to work hard."

Although he will initially take a slight pay cut from his $28,000 salary at the county, he said he could surpass that figure. He also said his family is happy he will be able to work near his home.

"My wife has had to be very understanding to put up with a police officer for 18 years. It's not easy being a policeman's wife," he said. Toffant said a replacement will be named in about a week and he said Bright's successor will come from within his department. Bright's last day at the county will be March 31, and he will begin his new job April 1.

"Law enforcement will miss him," Toffant said. "He was a dedicated policeman, honest and hard working. Time meant nothing to him."

Toffant, 68, won a second term as sheriff last November.

Lab reports confirm no dioxin in Venice

The city of Venice now has received copies of special lab analyses from the Illinois attorney general's office concerning test samples taken last year in the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad yards at Venice by the Illinois EPA, Mayor Echols advised.

"From what I can tell, no dioxin showed up in the tests," he said.

EPA testing of various locations in Venice was ordered last March. April and May in connection with the alleged dumping of chemically-contaminated oil at the switching yards by a Missouri waste hauler.

The lab analysis reports came with a copy of the complaint filed by the attorney general's office with the Illinois Pollution Control Board against Jerry-Russell Bliss Inc., the firm's owner.

Assistant Attorney General Vincent W. Moreth, who has been assigned to prosecute the case, advised Attorney Hartman that Venice officials will be kept informed of any future developments in the litigation.

The main legal points in the complaint contend Bliss Inc. is not licensed to do business in Illinois and Illinois Central Gulf does not have a valid permit to operate a refuse disposal operation in the Venice yards.

Four counts contained in the action are based on the fact "it is alleged that they (the defendants) improperly disposed of hazardous waste by virtue of spraying of trichloroethylene and heavy metals considered to be toxic," according to Don Ramsell, a spokesman for the Illinois Attorney General Neil Hartman, who was contacted by the Press-Record when the problem first surfaced.

Some instances of the presence of trichloroethylene, a hazardous waste considered to be moderately toxic, were noted in the test results. Traces of PCB's (polychlorinated biphenyls) were reported in four of the nine test analyses received by the city.

The spraying of oil was done for dust control, but since the oil was waste oil and contaminated with trichloroethylene and heavy metals, the attorney general's office charges that this is the dumping of waste materials. It was learned.

The action states a Bliss, Inc., employee brought a tanker-truck loaded with the waste oil to the Venice rail yards on April 14, 1982, and began spraying the oil onto the grounds.

The spraying allegedly was witnessed by a representative of the state EPA and by employees of Illinois Central, who halted the action, the charge states.

An anonymous source informed the IEPA of the spraying and the application of oil may have occurred several times before it was discovered. IEPA officials said. How the chemical trichloroethylene got into the waste oil is not certain, they advised.

Bliss and his waste-hauling firm are the object of hearings in Missouri in connection with spraying of contaminated waste oil from trucks in the Times Beach and Meramec Heights areas. Kenneth Mensing, IEPA regional manager of land pollution, said earlier that the material in the Venice yards poses no imminent threat to those in the area and there have been no reports of ill health caused by the presence of trichloroethylene at that location.

In other business at last week's city council meeting, Venice Superintendent of Streets, Don Ramsell, announced the community's annual "Clean-Up Week" is scheduled for April 16 through April 22.

He urged residents to "start cleaning out your attics and basements" and asked that all large items be placed in the alleys for pickup by city trucks.

Smaller items and debris should be placed in plastic bags before being left in the alley, he cautioned. "We hope to get the cooperation of all citizens in this year's spring clean-up drive," Scaturro stated.

Alderman Daniels asked if the street department could set up a regular schedule of street sweeping so residents could make an attempt to move vehicles on certain days when a specific street would be swept.

A resident suggested that opposite sides of a street be swept on alternating days to allow those living there to park cars at other locations during sweeping hours.

Mayor Echols asked the street and alley committee to assist Scaturro in establishing a viable program of street sweeping for the community.

Council members authorized his transportation for the Silver Bells Senior Citizens Club to attend "Senior Citizen's Day," scheduled March 23, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and agreed to continue support for the Senior Aide Program, sponsored by Belleville Area College, by approving a $3,000 contribution for the next fiscal year, starting in June.

A letter was read from the Rev. John Henry Williams, inviting city officials to attend a ribbon-cutting ceremony for the new multipurpose building at New Salem Baptist Church, 1349 Klein St. The ceremony will begin at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

The mayor reported that legal proceedings are underway against the owner of a dwelling in the 1200 block of Robin Street, a problem that has occupied the council's attention and elicited caustic remarks from Mayor Echols, at several meetings of late.

"The very minute the 10 days are up, we will go in and clean that place up and

Drug abusers highly visible here

Have we "turned our backs" too long on the subject of juvenile drug abuse?

It was a wild night Friday on the Johnson Road "strip." We personally observed groups of teens staggering from one place to another, many with swollen eyelids, runny noses and other classic symptoms of drug abuse.

We are told that cocaine is becoming common in high school. We asked where teens get the money for cocaine and were told simply, "They steal it." We saw a boy about 15 trying vainly to play a video game and telling his friends in slurred language, "Leave me alone. I don't feel so hot, man."

The police were called out on a report that "someone was pushing some bad dope," according to a dispatcher. Is there such a thing as good dope?

We are sure the officer recognized the familiar signs of marijuana and drug abusers. He had to witness the groups of at least 30 or 40 stumbling around with glazed eyes, but his hands were tied. Officers cannot just grab a youth from the streets and take him down to the police station to be questioned because he staggers.

The officer checked in cars for anyone passed out. He searched vainly for the pusher. He could do nothing.

We cannot rely on the police to stop drug abuse. The responsibility lies squarely on the shoulders of the parents. Parents have to know, if they bother, that their children are coming home "stoned" or "doped." They should watch for classic signs, such as a constantly runny nose on a cocaine user, swollen eyelids, slurred speech, staggering and other symptoms.

Only by parents giving more attention to their children and acting properly when a problem is discovered can the upward spiral of drug abuse be stopped. Every parent of a teenage child should drive through the parking lots of the Johnson Road strip on a Friday night. It is an eye-opening experience.

Trade must be two-way street

Formation of the Illinois Steel Caucus, announced in an article in today's Press-Record, puts a brighter spotlight on pending federal trade reciprocity legislation.

The Steel Caucus, chaired by State Representative Sam Wolf of Granite City, has pointed to subsidized steel imports and blocked steel exports as creating disastrous competitive disadvantages for steelmakers in America. In addition to the problem of dumping of below-cost steel from overseas, many foreign markets are protected by a variety of visible and hidden trade barriers.

Major provisions of the proposed Reciprocal Trade and Investment Act are:

1. An annual report to Congress of major foreign barriers and distortions to U.S. exports of products, commodities, services and investment, including estimates of their impact on the U.S. economy and efforts to achieve their elimination.

2. Foreign barriers not removed through negotiation or enforcement of the GATT (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) could be offset by the U.S. through withdrawal of prior U.S. concessions, imposition of duties and other restrictions available under present law, as clarified by the new legislation.

3. Other U.S. retaliatory options not currently available to the president could be taken in the form of legislation enabling accelerated consideration by Congress.

4. Unfair trade practices for which relief is available under U.S. law would be broadened to cover performance requirements and other barriers to investment, as well as violations of intellectual property rights.

5. The legislation provides for major negotiations to achieve international agreements that encourage fair and open trade in services, investment flow and high technology.

As summarized by U.S. Senator Jack Danforth, chairman of the Senate's International Trade Subcommittee, "Our nation's trade policies need a mechanism to achieve fairness in international trade. Up to now, our approach has been mostly rhetorical. We say to other nations that their trade barriers are terrible, that they're wrecking our economy, that they need to stop. But the barriers don't come down. Other countries have to realize there will be a cost if they raise barriers to U.S. trade."

Revitalization needs cooperation

Quad-Cityans may take special interest in the Main Street Illinois Conference on Downtown Development, being held today through Wednesday in Springfield. The meeting will review pilot revitalization programs conducted during the past two years.

Experts in planning, development and rehabilitation are sharing ideas on how to enhance or maintain central business districts. Sponsored by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA), the sessions will bring city planners together with local government officials and business leaders.

Issues being dealt with include parking, building rehabilitation, government assistance and marketing programs.

Peter B. Fox, DCCA director, says, "It has been proven, both by the Illinois and national Main Street Center programs, that implementing some basic programs can rejuvenate central business areas."

"Under Main Street Illinois, results were achieved by creating local downtown managers to coordinate development projects. We were able to identify and overcome in five communities many obstacles that are common to cities and villages throughout the state."

The two-year pilot project which began in Illinois in January 1981 targeted Vandalla, Quincy, Macomb, Dundee and Mount Carroll. DCCA provided each with a $12,500 grant to help employ a development coordinator.

"In the last nine months of 1982 alone, these towns had 27 business openings and five expansions creating 171 new jobs. This represents private investments of $1,900,000 in that period," Fox related.

The conference is intended to spread the word on how similar rejuvenation can be achieved in other cities. We urge strong local attention to the findings, combined with awareness of a conclusion reached in all five areas:

For any development project to be a success, there must be participation at all levels, including governmental, private sector and community organizations.

Potatoes and gravy are OK again

People may not be overly concerned about the state of the nation, but they're sure to be interested in their weight.

They step on the scales every morning. They take toast without butter, coffee without sugar. They eat salty salad bars. They forgo Harvey Wallbangers for a dry white wine.

They know all about the latest diets — grapefruit and hard-boiled eggs, canned spinach and carrots, grapes and cantaloupe, sex and black coffee. They have tried them all. Their weight goes up and down with the stock market.

Thus, word from a life insurance company that a little more weight might be a good thing burst like a bomb upon the dieting public.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. announced its first new height-weight tables in 24 years, stating the weights at which people are likely to live longest have risen slightly.

Now, Metropolitan didn't say, "Go out there and gross up." It said only that heavier people are now living longer, perhaps due to better nutrition, more exercise, better health care.

Even though a couple of pounds might not hurt from an actuarial standpoint, the nation is hooked on the notion that "thin is beautiful." Gravy and mashed potatoes were a nice dream. Back to the carrots and celery sticks.

A Press-Record reporter asked people in the downtown Granite City area if they believe the school board and its administrators do everything they can to keep drugs out of schools here. Their reactions follow:

John Bischoff, Granite City

"It's a hard thing to control when you're dealing with so many students and I think the problem will be compounded when North closes. As far as policing every student, it's impossible. I think Gib Walmesley will do a good job in doing all he can to control the drug problem in the high school when we move to only one campus."

Gilbert Walmesley, principal at North High School:
"Well, I don't think we have an excessive drug problem on our campus, but one student who uses drugs is one too many. I think (when the campuses merge) we'll have more kids to supervise. Those who abuse drugs will be separated. We're going to make every attempt to find out who uses drugs and weed out drugs on the school grounds."

James Dumont, principal at South High School

"In reality, it's not the only thing I've got to spend my time with, but it is one of my biggest concerns at the school. There are all kinds of things that can be done to deter the use of drugs. There are tons of things that can be done to educate kids. We have to hammer away at it, but that still won't solve the problem, because kids never learn until they find out for themselves. I hope there won't be (more of a problem when the campuses merge)."

Cheryl Meagher, Granite City

"I think they do a pretty good job. I don't think there's a whole lot more than can do, because kids will do drugs if they want to."

Suggests, beware of incumbents bearing gifts

To the Editor:

I recently saw that the mayor and the incumbent aldermen from the city of Madison are going to start giving away free seeds. I feel this is awfully nice of these aldermen, especially it being so close to the election.

Looking back, I also recall our aldermen giving us a few things such as a five percent maximum utility tax, a decrease in our city services, inadequate police protection and an attempt to give us home rule.

After receiving my last utility bill with its add-on utility tax, I may just have to use those free seeds.

Says cable TV committee members not asked

To the Editor,

I read with interest and some amazement that Mayor Sasyk's new committee to look into cable TV.

In talking to two of the members, both prominent businessmen, neither of them had been asked if they would serve, or were interested in serving, on the cable TV committee. This committee could conceivably form a "not-for-profit" corporation and support a cable TV system within Madison.

What bothers me is the cost factor involved and the apparent hundreds of thousands of dollars of taxpayers money already spent on cable TV and the alleged burglar alarm system.

One alderman stated quite honestly to me that they did not do their homework when they previously proposed cable TV.

Four maximum utility taxes went into effect July 1, 1981. Yet, it is nearly impossible to find out from the city or the utility company how much money has been collected as a result of the tax and how, specifically, the money collected from the utility tax was spent.

An alarm system is being proposed, but on one can answer how much it will cost to install an alarm system, from where the money for this alarm system will come or, came, what the homeowners will have to pay for this system and who really wants the alarm system?

It appears to me that the city administration and the current aldermen again are not doing their homework as to the cost to the taxpayer.

There has been no systematic survey taken to see if the majority of the people of Madison can afford or want cable TV or an alarm system. If the majority do, then I would be in favor of it.

If the majority don't, why are the current aldermen supporting it blindly? Jobs and money to live on are hard to come by. Is this another pipe dream or whim of one individual with the city council blindly following? Ask your alderman what these things will cost you and I would suggest you take their answer, if you get one, with a grain of salt.

I will not comment on the city administration's idea for planting gardens every year, as I am not a farmer, but I do see numerous problems with these "gardens."

I think the additional summer help that is proposed for the planting of the gardens could be better used helping our senior citizens fix up their homes or taking care of their grass and yards. Again, I think we have a very questionable idea that the aldermen are blindly promoting.

Ask your alderman one question — did he ever vote on any matter proposed or supported by the city administration?

Past participant praises Operation Snowball

To the Editor:

I am a student at Frather Junior High and I am 14 years old. Recently, I attended Operation Snowball, and it was just great. I think a lot of kids should get in on Operation Snowball. It is one of the greatest ideas they've come up with yet.

Operation Snowball is a process which, through education and emotional growth, addresses a broad range of adolescent concerns by promoting personal and social development. Snowball is ideal for most everyone, especially for teens because they can increase their feelings of self-worth by examining their attitudes and values. Teens also learn to make responsible decisions about alcohol and drug abuse.

The highlight of the Operation Snowball for me was listening to the true life experiences of people who have lived with drugs and alcohol abuse. They talked with us about what they went through and encouraged us to avoid making the same mistake.

I think it's about time somebody is finally doing something about the increase of drug abuse and, thanks to Operation Snowball, it is decreasing. I strongly urge everyone to join in with Operation Snowball, because it could change your life for the better.

Amy Hardin benefit proceeds top $1,500

A capacity crowd filled the hall of Tri-Cities American Legion Post 113 at 1825 State St. this month to aid the trust fund for Amy Lynn Hardin, the 8-month-old Cahokia infant in need of a liver transplant.

Proceeds from the dinner dance amounted to $1,505 and will be forwarded to the Trust Fund for Amy Hardin at the Dupo State Savings Bank in Dupo, according to the Post Commander Harold Chandler.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Bob Pieper, who performed magic tricks, and music for dancing was by "The Third Wind" band.

Representatives attended from Quad-City area organizations and all food, desserts, drinks, prizes and gifts for auction were donated by area merchants.

Commander Chandler said, "This was the best dance we have had in a long time. Everyone was interested in helping with the project, which was attended by over 250 people."

Frank Rodgers, commander of VFW Post 1301, assisted as master of ceremonies and introduced many dignitaries, including Pontoon Beach Village Board President Paul Bennett and his wife, Edna, and Mildred Walker, chairman of ticket committee.

Food contributions were from Roderick's Restaurant, Schermer's Market, Cionko's Market, St. Elizabeth Medical Center, and drinks were furnished by Sirko Distributing Co. Gifts for prizes and the auction were donated by Hudson Jewelers, Inc., Michel's Jewelry, Leader Department Store, Joy Edwards, a floral arrangement, and Jerry Henderson, owner of the Pontoon Beach Mobil Station.

The Pontoon Beach Lions contributed $100 cash and Granite City Steel donated $50 cash for the trust fund.

Amy Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David (Robin) Hardin of Cahokia. She suffers from a rare liver disease and desperately needs a transplant to live.

A trust fund was established for Amy, but as of Feb. 24, $73,000 of the required $175,000 was still needed before the operation could be considered.

According to a family spokesman, they must have that amount of money before

CHILD ID GROUP TO BE AT CITY TEMPLE

Students of the City Temple Child Development Center, 4751 Maryville Road, visited the Granite City Fire Station on Madison Avenue Monday. About 20 children saw the engines and firefighters.

On March 15 and 17, the children will visit the Granite City Public Library.

Also coming up in March is Child Identification Day. Between 1.3 million and 1.8 million children are reported missing in the U.S. each year and 50,000 to 100,000 are never found.

The Child Identification Group of Collinsville was established to help provide a means of identifying children. After fingerprinting children, a copy of the fingerprints are given to the parents, who can provide the copy to police should something happen to the child.

Persons interested in having their children fingerprinted at the City Temple may call 797-1229 for more information. A $2.50 fee per child is required. Copies of fingerprints will be given only to parents.

CONTRIBUTION OF $100 is presented by Bobby Durbin, left, vice president of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club, to Harold Chandler, commander of Tri-City American Legion Post 113. The donation is to be added to the Amy Lynn Hardin Trust Fund at the Dupo Bank to help fund a liver transplant operation for the 8-month-old infant, Durbin made the presentation at a benefit dinner dance during the weekend at the local Legion post, 1825 State St.

doctors at the University of Minnesota Hospitals will test the child to see if she is physically fit to have the operation. Total cost of the operation could be as high as $250,000.

Area people and organizations have responded wholeheartedly to the financial need of the family and the child who must have the surgery. There were two benefit performances in St. Louis for the youngster and another one in Madison.

On Sunday, Feb. 27, a benefit was conducted at Kiel Auditorium featuring The Plasmatics as special guests, and Teamsters Local 618 of St. Louis sponsored a benefit on Feb. 13 at the

GARAGES BURGLARIZED IN VENICE LAST WEEK

Venice residents reported three separate incidents of garage or shed burglaries to police last week.

Kenneth Brown, 503 Fillmore Ave., reported that his shed was broken into and a battery charger, a weight bar without any weights on it, and a grey tool box with about $200 worth of tools in it were taken. A lock on the shed door had been pried.

Edward Devany, 1018 Third St., and Walt Hyatt, 1012 Third St., both reported that their garages had been broken into. A battery charger, five quarts of oil and the battery to a riding lawnmower were taken from Devany's garage. When the garage door is opened a light automatically goes on, but Devany reported that the light bulb had been unscrewed.

Small tennis shoe prints were found on a car parked inside the garage. Tennis shoe prints also were found outside Brown's shed, police said.

Four buccups were taken from Hyatt's garage. Entry was gained by breaking a clasp on the door.

GIVEN 7 DAYS FOR CONTEMPT

In an appearance at the Granite City court last week, Patricia A. Hufstader, 23, of Alton, was sentenced to serve seven days in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville for contempt of court.

She was arrested at a home in the 2000 block of Dewey Avenue on a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a theft charge. She pleaded innocent, but the sentence was imposed and a mittimus was issued. She was transferred to the county facility during the weekend.

Local accidents result in injuries

Accidents occurred on ice last week on viaducts in both Pontoon Beach and Venice that resulted in injuries to the drivers.

In Pontoon Beach, Saber A. Virgil, 49, a St. Louis surgeon, was driven south on the viaduct on Route 111 when a northbound vehicle driven by Helen S. Thomas, 59, of Maryville, lost control on ice and entered the southbound lane. Her vehicle collided head on with Virgil's auto, police said.

Both drivers were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by ambulance.

In Venice vehicles driven by Odessa Collins, 48, of 1217 Logan Ave., Madison, and Linda Townsend, 44, of 217 Ashbrook St., Venice, collided on the viaduct. Both were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

'WALLEYBALL' TO START NEXT WEEK

The Tri-City Area YMCA introduces "Morning and Afternoon Walleyball." Walleyball is a game very much like volleyball, but played on a racquetball court. "At a cost of $1 per hour, or $8 for the one-month season it's a real bargain," said Patti Swearingin, coordinator.

Morning and afternoon walleyball begins March 21 at 9 a.m., 11 a.m., noon and 1 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays through April 13.

"Court space is limited—so sign up early. For further information contact the YMCA at 878-7200," she suggests.

Patti needs foster home

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services is seeking a family in the metro-east area to care for Patti, a twelve year old white girl who was abused in her natural home.

Described as very attractive, Patti has brown hair and is of average height and weight. Considered to be an average student, the seventh grader is active in girl scouts, enjoys going to church and is a cheerleader.

Because of the abuse she suffered in her home, Patti is slow to trust and can be stubborn. She can also be expected to "test" her foster parents to determine if they, too, will reject or hurt her.

In spite of these problems, department social workers expect that Patti would respond positively to flexible, consistent parenting.

Although a two-parent family is preferred for Patti, single parents with sufficient time and energy are also considered for foster children.

Both single parents and two parent families must be able to set and maintain reasonable, common-sense rules, according to Gail Holzhausen, resource development supervisor in the department's Belleville field office. Foster parents should also be willing to work closely with department social workers and local school personnel.

All foster parents must be licensed. The licensing process, for which there is no charge, requires foster parents to attend four training sessions, to visit with department licensing workers, to submit medical exam information, to have good reference reports and to undergo a criminal background check. The licensing process usually takes at least three months.

Foster parents are paid from $190 to $235 per month per child, depending on the child's age. The department also pays all medical, dental and pharmaceutical expenses for foster children. School book rental fees are paid by the state.

Local residents interested in caring for Patti or on learning more about foster home programs may call Pat at 878-8985.

News notes

The state will proceed this year with several Madison County highway projects, including resurfacing 2.18 miles and performing drainage work on Interstate 270 at an estimated cost of $1,418,248, on I-57, resurfacing 1.56 miles, $894,346, and patching; $57,000; on I-65, resurfacing 1.09 miles and drainage joint reconstruction, $691,899; basic District Eight project for I-55, a $708,661 bridge at the Madison County line, plus $1 million utility adjustments in Madison and St. Clair counties; and I-170, Route 120 left turn lanes and traffic signals in Madison County, $461,720.

State Rep. Wyvetter Young testified Thursday before the Illinois Commerce Commission against allowing electric utilities to bill its Illinois customers for part of the cost of an abandoned Missouri nuclear electric-generating unit.

The utility canceled its Calloway II plant in October 1981. The ICC is considering a 16.7 percent rate increase requested in July 1982 to cover higher operating costs; if granted, the increase would raise the average Illinois customer $10.68 a month and produce $21 million, of which $5 million would be used to offset the cost of the abandoned plant.

Pupils would no longer be required to take physical education in grades 11 and 12 and school districts would not have to provide driver education under a measure approved last week by the State Board of Education's

An ambulance was dispatched. But Morton said that the Campbell crew reported that the trooper called for a rescue squad. He said that Granite City was called, but would not respond because the accident was not in the city's jurisdiction.

In George Smolch, assistant fire chief, said that the department did refuse to dispatch a unit because it was not in the city's jurisdiction. He said that various cities in the area realize that Granite City ambulance service is "restricted to the community."

In order for the city to dispatch an ambulance, a specific request is required and the unit is dispatched only after "advice through (the city) council," he said.

Driver involved in two accidents

A motorist, who was involved in two accidents within a distance of three blocks, was charged with failing to give information or aid following an accident and a traffic light violation last week.

Dennis J. Yarbrough, 28, of 2811 Myrtle Ave., traveling west on Pontoon Road, allegedly went through a red light at Nameoki Road and struck a vehicle headed east, operated by Helen D. Nance, 2633 W. 22nd St., who was attempting to make a left turn from West Pontoon Road.

Yarbrough allegedly left the scene and, in the 1200 block of West Pontoon Road, reportedly struck the rear end of a 1971 pickup truck driven by Robert W. Cochran, 4205 Rode Ave. The crash pushed the Cochran's vehicle about 50 feet into a corner section of fence at 1213 W. Pontoon, knocking it down. The impact caused the truck to spin around the road, striking a fence of fencing around the Illinois Power substation.

Neither Cochran nor Yarbrough apparently was injured in the mishap.

Richard E. Nance Jr., 12, of 1737 Maple St., a passenger in Mrs. Nance's car, sustained a minor injury in the first accident.

HURT ON HIGHWAYS Laura Hattan, 36, New Baden, Ill., suffered cuts and bruises last week when her subcompact auto skidded on ice while climbing the Chicago Avenue overpass on Highway Three south of Niedringhaus Avenue. The front of the car struck a concrete divider and the vehicle was towed from the scene. She was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Single-parent families can share duties, opportunities

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Home Economics Adviser

Single parents often fear that their families will face more serious problems than the "traditional" two-parent family, but that's not necessarily the case.

Their troubles aren't always more serious. It's just that children in a single-parent family face somewhat different types of problems and opportunities than children in two-parent families.

As a result of the loss of one parent, the relation between the remaining parent and the children may change.

That change can be for the better, as long as both the adult and the children know what they can reasonably expect from each other.

In most "traditional" families, the decisions are made by the parents. But in single-parent families, the children are more likely to be included in the decision-making process.

In this situation, the children are provided the opportunity to learn how to make decisions and to learn the consequences of both good and bad choices.

Children of single parents must often take on new responsibilities, such as housework and perhaps the care of younger brothers and sisters. This, too, provides children with the opportunity to exercise skills in independent living.

Such changes in the roles and responsibilities of both children and adults are not without potential problems, however.

Often, a recently divorced parent may become overly dependent on the children for emotional support.

White children can indeed be a comfort to a parent in distress, youngsters are not prepared to take on the role of surrogate partner.

Young children, rather than teenagers, seem to be the most vulnerable to this sort of dependent relationship. That is, adolescents seem to be able to give emotional support without succumbing to a false sense of maturity.

The loss of a nurturing, reliable parent's support can make some children concerned about the security of their world. The confused youngsters may cope by adopting a false mask of independence and reluctance to seek love and affection from others.

Children can greatly benefit from the chance to take part in family decisions but they can also be hurt if their parents depend on them for the kind of emotional support only another adult can give.

It is important for newly separated parents to acknowledge that their family structure has changed. If the children know — from the start — that their new opportunities and responsibilities go hand in hand, the family can be a stronger one.

In turn, the parents must recognize that there's a line between having grown up children and having children who've had to grow up too fast.

11 will share alternate prize

Although no lotto player matched all six winning numbers March 5 to win the Illinois State Lottery's lotto grand prize 11 players matched five of the six plus the alternate number to share the alternate grand prize pool of $52,042. Each won $4,732.

Lotto Supt. Michael J. Jones explained that the alternate grand prize is awarded only when there is no grand prize winner or winners.

Alternate grand prize winners share a prize pool that is 20 percent of that week's grand prize pool, not including any rollover from previous weeks. The remaining 80 percent is rolled over to the next week's grand prize pool.

Of last week's grand prize pool of about $260,000, about $208,000 was for this Saturday.

Jones added that 179 lotto players matched five of six and each won $593 out of the second prize pool of $106,147. The third prize pool of $156,744 was shared by 7,464, each winning $21.

County board asked to allow Chemetco's slag pile request

The Madison County Board Wednesday morning will be asked to accept a recommendation from the county's Zoning Board of Appeals granting a special use permit to allow Chemetco, Inc., north of Mitchell to continue to have slag piles on the property, which is in an M-3 heavy industrial district of Chouteau Township.

Residents of the area expressed concern at a public hearing Feb. 3 that runoff from the existing slag piles might reach streams in the area and could get into the ground water, contaminating wells nearby.

The zoning board recommended approval of the permit, with the stipulations that containment levees and ditches be used to channel the runoff to the water treatment facility operated by Chemetco, that the water be treated before it is discharged into any stream, and that every effort should be made to dispose of the slag as soon as possible. It also is suggested that the Madison County Environmental Control Laboratory make periodic tests on the discharge into the canal.

The zoning board also is recommending that the county board Wednesday approve a variance for Steve and Sandra Szadai, property owners, and Irving and Deborah Lasky, purchasers, so a flower shop can be established in an existing business building at 1700 Courtney Blvd.

The property is in an R-4 residential district of Nameoki Township.

Also recommended by the zoning board for approval Wednesday is a request by David Pride and Loren Nichols to rezone a tract of land in State Park Place from R-3 single-family residential to a B-4 wholesale business district.

Two requests for special use permits for mobile home placements also are endorsed by the zoning board, with the stipulation that the permits expire after five years and are for the sole use and occupancy of the families

Ballwin woman reports attempted rape

A 22-year-old Ballwin, Mo., woman reported that a man attempted to rape her Wednesday night after he offered to give her a ride into Edwardsville, but brought her, instead, into this area.

The woman told Madison County sheriff's deputies that she was going home from her 6:30 class at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville when her car slid off the road when she hit an icy patch on Interstate 270.

She was taken to a service station in the area and told authorities that it took about two hours before her vehicle was towed there.

A man came to the service station; she said, and offered her a ride into Edwardsville. He told her he had gone to East Chain of Rocks Road and knew his way around the area. The woman said she accepted the ride, because of the rough weather.

It was about 9:30 p.m. when she got into his vehicle and she said he drove east on East Chain of Rocks Road. As he was driving, he put his hand on her leg and told her he wanted to have sexual relations with her and that he deserved to, because he was giving her a ride.

She alleged that she offered him money, but he turned it down. When the man slowed the vehicle to turn onto a side street where he said he was going to have sex with her, she jumped from the automobile. She alleged that the man tried to grab her, but she escaped and went to a nearby residence where she summoned help.

The vehicle was described as a blue mid-size American automobile made between 1975 and 1978. The suspect was described as a white male between 5 feet, 5 inches, and 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighing 150 pounds and between 18 and 30 years old. He had a brown hair and a mustache. The victim said the man did not threaten to harm her, nor did he display a weapon.

GRANITE CITY BANK

Q. I intended to invest in an Individual Retirement Account in 1982, but I never got around to opening an account. When would be my next best opportunity to make the investment?

A. Right now, by all means. You still have until you file your 1982 tax return to make a contribution to an Individual Retirement Account, or IRA, and still claim the 1982 deduction. Then, as soon as possible, make contributions to your 1983 installments. The earlier you make your contributions, the more time your money has to accumulate interest and to grow - tax free, until withdrawn at retirement. As you may be aware, you can contribute up to $2,000 each year, or up to $2,500 if your spouse is not working. And, it is interesting to note that the overwhelming opinion among money managers and investment experts is that an IRA is the best tax advantage the average American can invest in right now, of course, everyone can participate. Our best advice is, talk to your banker as soon as possible, and get that IRA working for you beginning with the 1982 tax year.

INJURED, ARRESTED, FOUR CARS DAMAGED

Dan L. Merchoff, 34, of 2002 Missouri Ave. was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol Thursday after his northbound car hit the parked car of Steven Pickett, 1942 Spruce St., and knocked that vehicle against the parked car of David Pickett, also of 1942 Spruce.

Merchoff's auto backed up and accidentally hit a parked car on the opposite side of Spruce Street. Its owner was George Pickett, 2828 Morgan Ave. Merchoff was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for a nose fracture suffered in the collisions.

First time home buyers get second break in 1983

The Illinois Housing Development Authority (IHDA) has raised income limits on its mortgage purchase program, so that any person or family making $40,400 or below may qualify for a first time home mortgage in Illinois. The new income limits allow more home buyers to participate in the low interest program which began in 1982. IHDA's program offers home buyers affordable mortgages through a GEM mortgage program and a low 12.95 percent fixed interest rate.

GEM financing, or a growing equity mortgage, is particularly beneficial to first time home buyers in today's market. With a GEM mortgage, the borrower can count on a fixed interest rate and a rapid growth in equity. A GEM loan is paid off more quickly than a traditional mortgage loan; generally within 17 years.

Today, mortgage rates are higher than the inflation rate, making the GEM loan more sensible to use since the borrower will pay off a loan faster and reduce the interest rate.

IHDA also raised purchase prices to $79,500 (new construction in the Chicago area, and to $66,000 (new construction) in the remainder of the state.

Loans will be made through 40 participating financial institutions — not through the Authority. An estimated $30 million is still available through the program.

IHDA, created in 1967, is a public benefit corporation governed by a board of directors appointed by the governor. Its purpose is to stimulate production of new and rehabilitated housing for low- and moderate-income families, the elderly and the handicapped by making below-market-rate mortgage and construction loans to non-profit and limited independent developers of private rental housing.

Road deaths decline here

Madison County has no February traffic fatalities and its two-month total of one compares with six highway deaths in January-February 1982.

Traffic deaths in Illinois during February increased 32.5 percent from the same month of 1982, rising from 77 to 102.

This state's 213 fatalities for the two months of 1983 are up 30.7 percent from 163 during February, the 102 deaths were a result of 92 accidents. Nineteen pedestrians were killed in 19 accidents, one bicyclist in one mishap, and one person killed in one accident involving motorcycles.

St. Clair County has had seven 1983 fatalities, compared to five a year ago.

VOTING ON CITIZENS UTILITY BOARD PLAN

On April 12, voters in 107 municipalities will cast ballots on Illinois Citizens Utility Board proposals. The 107 include Belleville.

Last November, Chicago voters approved an advisory referendum on the utility board proposal by a 4-1 margin. If approved by legislators, the CUB would provide full-time attorneys, accountants and engineers to represent residential utility customers in rate hearings before the Illinois Commerce Commission.

FINED $400 IN GC

Timothy Lee Childers, 27, Ringgold, Ga., was fined $400 at a court hearing in Granite City at 3 p.m. Thursday. He was arrested at August and E. 25th streets earlier that day and booked on 1980 warrants alleging careless driving, driving with a suspended license and failing to obtain a Granite City auto license.

Port improvements closer to reality

The proposed improvement project for the St. Louis Harbor and expansion of the harbor north of Tri-City Regional Port has moved a step nearer realization. The Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors (BERH) of the U.S. Corps of Engineers has concurred in the findings of the St. Louis Engineer District and is recommending approval of the project.

The recommended plan for the St. Louis Harbor contains two major elements. The first is to construct an "L" dike or similar structure adjacent to the St. Louis Municipal Dock to provide reliable water transport access by reducing the existing sedimentation problem. The "L" dike would be a stone structure reaching out 200 feet from the Missouri shore and then running downstream for 2,800 feet. It would provide water access to approximately 300 acres of industrially-zoned land. The estimated cost of the project is approximately $22 million. The BERH recommended that the proposed plan be authorized for implementation, subject to cost sharing and financing arrangements satisfactory to President Ronald Reagan and the Congress.

State offers low-interest loans for high unemployment counties

Peter Gidwitz, chairman of the Illinois Industrial Development Authority, announced that a special low interest revolving loan fund has been established for areas within Illinois that have an extremely high rate of unemployment.

The revolving fund was created by a special grant from the Economic Development Authority, which is a subsidiary of the State of Illinois.

As of March 1, 1983, qualified projects located within 25 counties are eligible to apply for loans from the Title IX Fund. Eligible counties are Macon, Woodford, Tazewell, Kankakee, Winnebago, Boone, Vermillion, Perry, Knox, LaSalle, Montgomery, Massac, Rock Island, Henry, Lake, McHenry, Kane, DuPage, Cook, Will, Madison, Clinton, St. Clair, Monroe and Peoria.

The Revolving Loan Fund has been established to assist new or expanding manufacturing companies by making low-interest loans available for fixed asset acquisitions, which should result rather quickly in new jobs. Basic guidelines for the program are:

- The project must be manufacturing or industrial.
- Loan proceeds can only be used for fixed asset financing, such as land acquisition, building construction or expansion or purchase of machinery and equipment.
- The project must result in the creation of new jobs (or place unemployed workers in new jobs).
- A conventional lender, or group of lenders must finance at least 25 percent of total projects costs. (This could include working capital.)

—Title IX loans will be made at 7 1/2 percent for periods of up to 25 years.

—Title IX loans may not exceed 30 percent of total project costs, or $100,000.

—Priority also will be given to projects which will employ presently displaced workers within these communities.

For additional information, interested persons may contact the Illinois Industrial Development Authority, Post Office Box 397, 400 East DeYoung Suite 5, Marion, Ill. 62659, or call 1-997-6318.

Law advances to increase processed food exports

The Senate Agriculture Committee has approved legislation offered by Senator Alan J. Dixon which would assure a continued level of processed and fortified commodity exports.

Dixon's measure was attached as an amendment to the Agricultural Export Equity and Market Expansion Act of 1983. The bill itself makes several changes in the Food for Peace program under Public Law 480, and calls on the administration to assure that approximately 55 to 60 percent of the total tonnage of commodities donated under Title II be processed and protein-fortified products.

Noting the "value-added" benefits of these exports to the U.S. economy, Dixon cited a recent USDA report which indicated that if a 10 percent increase of current raw exports of wheat, corn and soybeans were shipped as processed products, the Gross National Product (GNP) would increase by nearly $16 billion, personal income would rise by $3 billion and more than 300,000 new jobs would be created.

The amendment is identical to S. 490, which Dixon introduced last month.

"Since the implementation of the Food for Peace Act, the program has helped to alleviate hunger and malnutrition and, at the same time, promote agricultural exports," Dixon said. "The incorporation of this measure in the committee's bill clearly demonstrates its urgency and expedites the much needed recognition of the importance of value-added products."

MANY VISIT 8TH GRADE VISITATION

More than 120 area eighth graders took part in Metro-East Lutheran High's third annual Eighth Grade Visitation Day Friday, Feb. 25, at the high school campus.

Most of the prospective students attend area Lutheran grade schools, but not all, as students from public junior high schools, also were in attendance. The program consisted of a devotion ceremony, simulated class schedules for all on a shortened basis, lunch, and a closing of the day's activities.

A maximum of 55 applications may be accepted for next year's freshmen class. Application may be made by contacting principal, Dr. William Heinicke, at the school. The address is 1001 Center Grove Road, Edwardsville, Ill., 62025, and the telephone number is 1-656-0043.

NATHAN WEAVER

8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry (Paula) Weaver, recently won a workout with the St. Louis Blues Hockey team. The practice session was recently held at the Affron Ice Rink in St. Louis. Hardee's Restaurants and the St. Louis Blues sponsored the event. Each winner received a practice session with the team, a Blues jersey, a hockey stick and a photo album depicting the two-hour session. Nathan, a third grade student at Maryville School, competed in the skate, pass and shoot finals at the Checker Dome recently. Nathan is in his second year with the Granite City Amateur Hockey Program. He plays in the Squirt Division and his team was undefeated this year.

ADM donates to Lutheran High

Archer Daniels Midland Company (ADM) recently donated materials to Metro-East Lutheran High in Edwardsville for the enhancement of the school's science program.

Officials of the company agreed to the donation after plans to relocate in Clinton, Iowa, were finalized. Most of the equipment is of the laboratory nature and will be of great aid to the new and growing science department at the Lutheran high school.

Catalog value of the equipment purchased new would be approximately $18,000.

Archie Blachfener, official with ADM and parent of a senior daughter at the high school and Bob Frey of Edwardsville, were instrumental in obtaining the donation, officials said.

BOY IS ROBBED OF $12 BY TWO YOUTHS

A 16-year-old Granite City boy was robbed of $12 on the Nameoki Village Shopping Center parking lot at 1:30 p.m. Thursday by a youth about 19 years old who struck him in the mouth with a fist, causing bleeding. The assailant was about 5-11 tall, 150 pounds, and a companion appeared to be 18 years old, 5-9, 150.

Both wore blue jeans and had collar-length brown hair. They drove south on Nameoki Road in an old two-tone brown two-door auto.

College praised

Lease details have not yet been disclosed.

The college district also will invest in equipping the building for computer science, business administration, and maintenance, secretarial, general baccalaureate and other instruction. BAC and GCC course offerings and credits are designed for later acceptance by universities.

In addition to its reputation for keeping leased buildings in top condition, the BAC district has been called one of the most effective of the 38 community college districts in Illinois.

Sixth largest in the volume of service to the public, led by four in the Chicago area and one in Peoria, it also is one of the largest in geographic area.

Its 350,000 population and 2,100 square miles are in St. Clair, Monroe and Randolph counties and parts of Madison, Bond, Washington and Perry counties.

The main campus is centrally located in the district, at Belleville. With the Carlyle Road campus there becoming increasingly overcrowded—particularly in its library capacity, study areas and parking space—the district has been considering establishing major satellite operations in the north (Granite City) and south (Sparta or Red Bud).

BAC's 16-cent education fund tax rate per $100 valuation is one of the lowest of the 38 districts.

Eighteenth in taxable wealth-to-population comparisons, the district receives equalization aid from the state. It ranks as a leader in its ability to generate credit hours in relation to the operating funds expended.

When Quad-Cityans pondered whether to seek to annex to BAC, situated at the St. Clair County seat, Belleville, or the Lewis and Clark District, based at Godfrey in northern Madison County, the citizen committee was unanimous in its recommendation of BAC.

Factors taken into account included the character of the area, the age and condition of buildings, and an analysis of costs, taxation and debt.

Undergoing the turmoil of a faculty strike, the $22-million BAC district is an institution where pay levels are still among the highest, and rebounded from the brink of insolvency to a $1,429,633 financial balance at the close of the last fiscal year, June 30, 1982.

Changes in administrative staffing and services reduced annual costs by $280,785. The yearly budget of the college exceeds $10 million and its tax base tops $1 billion.

BAC is known to be unhappy with this year's recession-related college fund cutbacks by the state government, but District 522 is seen as better able to withstand the impact than most public college districts in the state.

With a tuition of $21 per credit hour in 1983-84, the center being established in Granite City will be able to provide an associate's degree in two years at a cost below $1,300.

For a full schedule of 15 hours a semester or 30 a year, the tuition totals next year will be $315 (fall) or $350 (fall and spring).

By law, tuition at community colleges in this state must remain below one percent of the state's gross state product. A breakdown of District 522 income shows 40 percent from the state, 27 percent from tuition, 23 percent from real estate taxes and 10 percent from other sources.

Quad-City property owners pay about $400,000 in taxes annually to the college district.

BAC students average 23 years in age. The typical student takes courses that total six credit hours per semester.

The 13,000 enrolled in District 522 constitute a full-time equivalent of 5,700 students. Credit hours total 175,000 annually.

Although situated near the northwestern corner of the district's section of its most northwestern county, the Granite City Center's location is regarded as ideal. It is in the BAC district's second largest concentration of population and is located on four-lane Illinois Highway 203 near four-lane Interstate 270, affording easy commuting access.

The building includes a gymnasium, cafeteria, library and varied classrooms. All portions are to be utilized, and Provost-designate Frank P. Gornick will seek to provide and encourage all aspects of a college setting and atmosphere. Teams clad in silver and blue uniforms are to be known as the Granite City Stars.

Although students in some areas of study will be able to qualify for two-year degrees entirely at GCC, others may take some courses here and some at BAC. The classes offered here will be determined in part by the demand for them.

President of the college district is Dr. Bruce R. Wissore. The district is governed by a board of seven trustees, serving staggered six-year terms. An appointed GCC advisory board will be formed.

Board members of District 522 include Avery Schermer of Granite City, Superintendent of the Schermer Brothers Supermarket.

BAC already conducts classes at Granite City Steel and they are expected to be continued by GCC. The district has a policy of cooperating with industries to foster economic development and employment expansion in this community and elsewhere in the seven-county region.

Between two opposing scenarios of hope or despair for steelworkers and steelmakers, the Illinois Steel Caucus wants to find a common ground.

A situation in which world trade is encouraged, but with fairer implementation of the tangible and intangible factors that affect one country's ability to successfully vend its products in another nation.

At the moment, "free traders" are being ignored, and one of the most vital of all U.S. industries is suffering devastating harm, the Illinois Steel Caucus believes.

Rep. Wolf indicated that, even though his schedule is busy, he hopes to devote sufficient time to the caucus to help find a "high at the end of the tunnel," brightening steel mills' currently dark employment and profit outlook.

low and subject to periodic flooding. They say the highway would increase flood frequencies.

1-255 is called necessary to meet future transportation requirements, but faces cuto Illinois Routes 3, 203, 111, 157 and 159 as available north-south highways.

The project is intended to complete the I-270 circumferential route around the bi-state metropolitan area. Opponents say the present 270 and 55-70 in effect complete the bi-state loop, without any need for I-255 construction in this county.

The objectors say transfers to other projects need to be achieved before the end of the 1983 federal fiscal year on Sept. 30. They do not pinpoint how much progress has been made to date on preparation of design plans for non-interstate road construction that would be substituted.

Among those opposing I-255 is the Gordon Gass family, which operates a farm along the proposed path of the highway.

Cheese giveaways continue

Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice. The council means receiving shipments of surplus cheese and butter set for distribution next week.

The Salvation Army is continuing to give out cheese to all area residents.

The Salvation Army Community Center, 307 E. 23rd St., which began distributing a record 42,000-pound shipment last week, was expected to give out cheese from 9 a.m. to noon today to all eligible residents of Madison County.

The Salvation Army also will give out cheese from 5 to 8 p.m. today only to those who work and who have no opportunity to pick up the cheese during the day.

Various township residents, with the exception of Nameoki, will be eligible for record butter and cheese distributions, tentatively set for March 22.

The uncertainty among some of the butter allotment, however, could affect when cheese will be distributed.

Townships have no means to refrigerate the butter, so both cheese and butter giveaways will be carried out when the butter is available. The council means the distribute date could be before or after the March 22 date.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs said his township will be giving out its cheese allotment on Thursday, March 17. Butter also will be distributed at that time, if available. The distribution will start at 9 a.m. at both the Nameoki Township Office, 4250 Highway 162, and the state Park Community Center.

Residents are being advised to contact their townships and check upcoming Press-Record issues for possible changes in the distribution dates.

Cheese allotments for March are: Chouteau, 3,565 pounds; Nameoki, 2,340 pounds; Venice-Madison, 4,455, and the Dunbar-Johnson location, 4,455.

Due to a change in guidelines, recipients will no longer be required to fill out cards or register in advance for the cheese. Those receiving cheese will be asked to sign their names, stating they did receive the cheese.

Competition is open to students in grades 9 through 12 in six different events, from oral presentations to calculator and team competition. Questions will test skills in factoring, logarithms, inequalities, logical reasoning and creative analysis used in algebra through pre-calculus.

Plaques and ribbons will go to individuals and schools with the highest scores in both Class A and AA categories, based on accuracy and speed. The I-255 meeting will begin at 11:30 a.m. at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in St. Louis.

The contest, organized by the Illinois Council of teachers of Mathematics with financial assistance from CNA Insurance Companies, involves more than 200 schools at 16 regional sites. The winners from each region will move to the state finals April 30 at Illinois State University.

Auto burglars take batteries

Classified as auto burglaries were six incidents reported during the weekend in which seven batteries were stolen from vehicles.

Most of vehicles entered by the thieves were pickup trucks.

A pickup truck and an auto belonging to Gerald Lewis, 2127 Missouri Ave., which were parked in a rear yard at his home, had the batteries stolen, he reported at 9:15 p.m. Saturday. Three youths were seen in the area carrying something heavy, he told police. The trio then got into a vehicle.

An unsuccessful attempt also was made to remove a battery from a neighbor's pickup truck in the 2100 block of Illinois Avenue, Lewis advised.

Jerry Young, 2110 Fourth St., reported at 9:10 p.m. Saturday that someone stole the battery from his pickup while the vehicle was parked in a tavern parking lot at 18th and State streets.

Elmer Parris, 2140 (near) W. 20th St., reported at 9:55 p.m. Saturday that the battery was gone from his pickup truck.

Domingo Valencia, 1829 Spruce St., had an auto battery stolen from his auto, he reported at 10:45 a.m. Friday. Patricia Green, 2607 Hodges Ave., said a truck battery was taken at 8:45 a.m. Friday.

Mark Kientzle, 2325 Delmar Ave., said at 3:10 a.m. Sunday that a battery was removed from his pickup truck while the vehicle was parked at 1801 Spruce St.

Seek fair steel rules

membership in the state steel caucus, Wolf said.

Terms of the officers and executive committee members will be two years. There will be monthly meetings while the General Assembly is in session, and special meetings also may be called.

A report cited by Rep. Wolf says "free market" advocates are prepared to almost write off American steel as a "mature" industry dating back 150 years, perhaps one that has outlived its usefulness.

With steel technology now within the capabilities of most nations, including many Third World countries, excess production capacity exists.

This puts "325 an hour" workers using 20-year-old equipment in "turn of the century" plants at an extreme disadvantage when competing with "Japanese workers averaging $12 an hour in plants where the age of equipment averages seven years," free traders are said to be pointing out.

Subsidized steel from Japan, Europe, Korea and elsewhere is raiding American markets, with hardly any effective restraints being applied by federal officials who adhere to free trade beliefs; Korean steel employees receive only $4 an hour, the report notes.

With production down and profit levels falling, less investment capital is going to steel firms' investors prefer "industries of the future," "industries of the past," it is contended.

The report says free trade advocates urge that "Smokestack America's" industries be abandoned and left to those who can produce "more efficiently." Instead, so the argument goes, scarce capital should be devoted to developing laser companies where Americans, so far, are the most efficient.

This viewpoint holds that, if U.S. firms can reduce costs and prices to consumers by buying foreign steel, they should do so, allowing domestic steel firms to perish through losing out in the marketplace. It is explained how the U.S. could respond to a war threat if it was dependent on foreign supplies of heavy-industry products.

The analysis cited by Rep. Wolf rejects such thinking and says the nation should not acquiesce to the death of countless communities where the population is devoted to traditional American concepts of family, work, neighborhood, patriotism and freedom.

It concludes that the U.S. cannot erect insurmountable tariff walls, defend inefficiency, perpetuate obsolescence and resurrect ancient industries and production practices.

But it also says that one-sided "rules levels falling, less investment capital is going to steel firms' investors prefer "industries of the future," "industries of the past," it is contended.

The report says free trade advocates urge that "Smokestack America's" industries be abandoned and left to those who can produce "more efficiently." Instead, so the argument goes, scarce capital should be devoted to developing laser companies where Americans, so far, are the most efficient.

This viewpoint holds that, if U.S. firms can reduce costs and prices to consumers by buying foreign steel, they should do so, allowing domestic steel firms to perish through losing out in the marketplace. It is explained how the U.S. could respond to a war threat if it was dependent on foreign supplies of heavy-industry products.

The analysis cited by Rep. Wolf rejects such thinking and says the nation should not acquiesce to the death of countless communities where the population is devoted to traditional American concepts of family, work, neighborhood, patriotism and freedom.

It concludes that the U.S. cannot erect insurmountable tariff walls, defend inefficiency, perpetuate obsolescence and resurrect ancient industries and production practices.

But it also says that one-sided "rules levels falling, less investment capital is going to steel firms' investors prefer "industries of the future," "industries of the past," it is contended.

Granite City's Midgets win MAHA championship

By ALAN L. GERSTEINER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

CREVE COEUR, (MO.) — Granite City's Midget Hockey team scored two goals in the final period Sunday to come from behind and defeat Valley of North St. Louis County for the Missouri Amateur Hockey Association's AA title at Creve Coeur Ice Rink.

They are the first Midget team from Granite City ever to win the M.A.H.A. title.

After 36 minutes, the Granite City Midgets, which remain undefeated this season in league action, skated off the ice with a 4-3 victory and the championship trophy in hand.

For Granite City, 20-0-1 this season, it was a total reversal of last year's 1-18-1 campaign. Coach Gary Phelps explains ed: "There's a new attitude on the team. And that's just it, we're a team. There are no stars. The new attitude and the kids believe in the program is what turned us around."

Ray Romine, assistant coach, was somewhat more philosophical. "The reason the kids have turned it around this year is defense. Their improved defense and the fact that they've matured a year. I think part of it, too, was for so many years they were the doormat in this league. I think they just got tired of getting stepped on and put things together," Romine said.

And put things together they did. In Sunday's contest, Granite City out-shot their Missouri opponents, 25-22. But it wasn't as simple as that. In the first period, Granite City managed six goals on goal while Valley managed eight shots at 14-year-old Tom Schneke. Schneke, by the way, was an excellent stand-in for Mike Ham, who was suspended following an altercation during the last game.

In that first period, Granite City took an early lead when center Ray Romine, son of the assistant coach, scored after taking a pass from Lance Boverie just 50 seconds into the contest.

Valley's center Tom Fernandez tied the game at one apiece with 9:16 remaining in the period when he slapped a shot past Schneke. Left winger Jeff George got the assist.

Valley took a 2-1 lead with just under three minutes remaining in the first period when Fernandez broke away from Granite City's defensemen and scored unassisted.

In the second period Granite City out-shot Valley nine to seven to even the shots on goal at 15 apiece by the end of the period.

Granite City managed to tie the game in the second period when Boverie, unassisted, intercepted a Valley pass and slipped it past Valley's Rich Glover.

Valley did not score in the second period.

In the third and final period, things looked bleak for Granite City when Valley's Dave Schief scored an unassisted goal with only 5:13 remaining.

Trailing by a goal with less than five minutes remaining, the Granite City squad displayed the kind of form that made them the best in their division.

Just 33 seconds after Valley took the lead, Granite City's David Yorkovich passed off to Pat Hoag. Hoag's slap shot slipped under Glover's arm. The game was tied.

For the next two minutes it was anybody's contest. Valley's leading scorer, Fernandez, threatened with 2:15 remaining, his shot was deflected by Schneke. Granite City picked up the deflection, controlling it down the ice before Hoag passed off to Romine for Granite City's final score; the game winner. Romine's shot came with less than two minutes remaining.

"I knew we were going to win it after we tied it up," Coach Romine said afterwards. "When we put in our 5-1 against theirs, I didn't have any doubt (we'd win)."

For Granite City, defensemen Terry Wade and Chris Pifer made reliever Schneke's job a little easier in goal. Wingers John Abrams, David Wilmouth, Mark Doniff and Keith Bono kept the puck moving, feeding centers Chris Carden, Hoag and Romine effectively.

As coach Phelps said, "It truly was a team victory." Cahokia, another Illinois team, won the A title, while Creve Coeur won the AAA title.

In North cage Regional Steelerettes are regional champs; down Tigers

Meets Alton Redwings tonight in Sectional

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY, (MO.) — Cook Granite City North's girls basketball coach, was really concerned about the championship game of the North Class AA Girls Regional.

This season, the Steelerettes hadn't been able to defeat either Granite City South or Cahokia, the two other teams North played twice this season, the third time around. He feared North would do the same with Edwardsville.

However, North calmed Cook's fears by defeating the Tigers 56-46 Thursday to win its own regional tournament.

North, 12-9 this season, will play Alton at 8 p.m. Monday in the first round of the Granite City South Sectional Tournament. East St. Louis Lincoln, the state's top-ranked Class AA, meets Bellevue West in the 6:30 p.m. game Monday.

"I was really worried that we'd lose tonight," Cook said. "The other teams we beat twice this season and played a third time beat us by four both times. I knew Edwardsville was an improved team, and I really thought they could get us."

Edwardsville indeed looked like it would upset North Thursday. The two teams we tied at 23-21 at halftime, and Elaine Olney scored to put the Tigers ahead briefly in the third quarter.

That basket was a shot in the arm for North. Despite two North turnovers, the defense helped to force Edwardsville to miss four straight shots and a turnover. Then North scored 10 unanswered points to take a 33-25 lead.

Once Edwardsville had to start trying to catch up with North, the game was in the Steelerettes' hands. The Tigers tried shooting from all over while the Steelerettes were keying in on center Amy Oberdeck.

Lately, the Tigers could count on outside shooting to try to open up the mid-die, but Edwardsville froze from outside in the fourth quarter.

Cindy Cox, who had taken much of the pressure off Oberdeck, only scored three points against North.

"She's been scoring around 18-20 points for us lately," Edwardsville coach Sharon Petty said. "She just was cold, and the rest of our outside shooters were cold. They had four people near the basket, and if we could have made some of those shots, we could have done all right."

As far as Petty was concerned, Edwardsville did the job defensively. It was simply the lack of offense that did it in the Tigers.

Even though the Steelerettes were playing without senior Trish Atkinson, who has averaged in double figures all season, because of illness, North was still able to count on a balanced scoring attack.

Lisa Lilley paced the North effort with 17 points. Paula Rozyczki scored 12 points. Monica Fanning put in 11 points, and starters Trina Davis and Kim Fountain both had eight points.

"I thought we played pretty well," Cook said. "The girls came progressed quite a bit throughout the season, and I'm happy for them."

"This season has been like a roller coaster. We were going higher and higher, and then they announced they were going to close North and we went right down."

There was no problem getting North's girls up for Thursday's game. It was the last North varsity game—girls or boys—that will be played at the North gymnasium.

The next step for the Steelerettes is Alton, and Cook expects a tough game from the Redwings. Cathy Snipes is Alton's big offensive threat. If North wins that one, the next opponent would probably be Lincoln.

"I'm glad we didn't play Lincoln in the regional like we did last year," Cook said with a smile. "I thought this year's regional was equally matched."

Snipes scored 28 points to lead Alton to a 60-41 win over Wood River at the Jerseyville Regional. No other Redwing scored in double figures.

At Cahokia, Lincoln's Tina Hutchinson was the story of Lincoln's 82-53 win over East St. Louis (Sr.). Hutchinson scored 34 points, and Toni Wallace added 19 points to lead Lincoln to another easy regional win.

Bellevue West's Jodi Lisch scored 29 points to guide the Maroons past Bellevue East 62-51 at the Bellevue West Regional. Nell Patton added 12 points, and Sandy Dahm put in 10 points for the Maroons.

MOVING THE BALL. The ball handling of Granite City North's Monica Fanning (22) is just one reason why the Steelerettes won the North Class AA Girls Regional Tournament Thursday. North defeated Edwardsville 56-46 for the championship. North plays Alton Monday in a first round game of the Granite City South Sectional.

Madison wins Assumption Regional; downs Dupu

EAST ST. LOUIS — The Madison Trojanettes won the Assumption Regional here Thursday evening with a 42-21 victory over Dupu in the championship game.

It was a tournament the Madison cagers decided to win some time ago. But recently, because of injuries that befell two teammates during an auto accident enroute to last Wednesday's semifinal game, winning the tournament had new meaning. They had to win it for their friends.

And win they did. The Trojanettes rolled over the Tigerettes, outscoring them in every quarter but the last. The end result was a two-to-one Madison white washing of the Tigerettes. It was the second year in a row that Madison met Dupu in regional action, and the second straight year that the Trojanettes won their regional. Last year, in the semifinals, the Trojanettes defeated the Tigerettes 42-17 before defeating Assumption 58-20 for the championship. Thursday's victory advances the Trojanettes to the Bunker Hill Sectional where they'll meet Brussels, the winner of the Pittsfield Regional, Monday at 8 p.m.

Other teams advancing to the Sectional are Bunker Hill, the winner of the Staunton Regional, and Litchfield, the winners of their own Regional. Those ten teams will play at 6:30 p.m., just prior to the Madison-Brussels contest.

Last year, in the first round of the Staunton Sectional, the Bunker Hill Minutemen defeated the Trojanettes 59-49. Madison coach Carol Cole, who says her 17-4 team this year is her best ever, is confident her team will do better this year.

"If they decide they want to win they can," Cole said. "Somewhat disappointed after Friday's weak practice, Cole said. "Sometimes they'll work like they want to win and other times, like tonight, they act like they don't care."

"Honestly though," Cole said, "when the whistle blows on Monday they'll be ready."

The Trojanettes won Thursday night's game because they "wanted to." But a 17-point performance by Regina Banks didn't help much either. In short, Madison ran away with the game from the beginning. The Trojanettes held the Tigerettes to just five points the first quarter, while greedily grabbing 14 of their own.

Things were not much better in the second quarter for Dupu either. The Trojanettes picked up 10 points while Dupu managed six.

Sporting a 24-11 lead at halftime, the Trojanettes put the game away in the third quarter as they scored 11 points while the Tigerettes managed a lowly two.

Leading 35-13 going into the fourth quarter, the Trojanettes coasted in the final stanza, managing just seven points while Dupu scored eight.

1921 and 1922: the origins of GC prep football

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

This started out with my wanting to publish the team picture of the first ever football team of the Granite City High School football squad circa 1921.

It was in 1921 that the then newly-built Granite City High School opened its doors and that fall fielded its inaugural gridiron eleven. Well, search as I could, I wasn't able to locate a photo of that head old football squad. I was, however, able to pin down the starting lineup of that opening Warrior grid team and its record.

I was successful in locating the second (fall 1922) squad which posed for its picture; many of those fellows, of course, also played the first year, one of which was their captain, Red Collins) and were key members of the initial campaign.

Prior to the move to the new high school, the high school students attended classes in the old Central School building.

As could be expected, that first team had a rough time of it and only won three of nine games; however, the final home contest of the season, gave the Warriors a great deal of satisfaction; they beat the established Bellevue High's Maroons 13-7, in a huge upset.

The starting lineup of the school's second football squad (1922) were: R.E. — Ray Morgan; R.T. — G. Johnson; R.G. — G. Luster; C. — Dahmus; L.T. — S. McAuley; L.T. — F. Smith; L.E. — J. Ropac; Q.B. — G. Collins; H.B. — A. Wiggert; H.B. — L. Coleman; F.B. — N. O'Haver; Sub. — H. Rice; Meng; Wilson; W. Neunreiter; P. Gaughan; R. Lewilnye; D. Henry; Gould; Jim King; B. Compton, and Ray.

The head coach of the 1921 squad was J.C. Dolly, who was assisted by Louis Haight. The following campaign, Haight took over as head mentor and he was helped by Bob White. It will be remembered that White, who had played and starred on the University of Illinois football team, went on to a distinguished career as a Federal District Court Judge in Danville, Ill. He married a Granite City girl, Muriel Morgan.

The 1922 eleven suffered an early setback when in the Cleveland High game, Art Habekost's leg was broken and he was lost for the season. Said Coach Haight: "The loss of Art, who was our fastest man, was a big setback."

A high spot of the second season was the team banquet tendered the players by County Clerk Jack Mellon, at the Elks' Club Lodge Hall. At that banquet it was announced that "Shorty Coleman was elected captain for next year. Speeches were heard by Coleman, from Noel O'Haver, Prof. Coolidge, Mr. White, Mr. Haight, Mr. Anson, and last, but not least, from Mr. Mellon.

Star of the Warriors' 6-0 victory over Bellevue on Thanksgiving Day was lineman, George Johnson. After advancing the ball on a 20-yard end run to the one-yard line, Johnson romped over for the winning TD.

We would like to thank Homer Huber and his wife, Roy Graham, and Walter Klein for their help in identifying the members of the 1922 football squad.

Twelve swimmers qualify for state swim meet

Cougars diamondmen off to good start; face SLU

By AL BARNES for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE —

Tomorrow afternoon (Tuesday, March 15) at Southern Illinois University at Ed-wardsville's Cougar Field baseball diamond, the high-flying Cougars of SIUE and the Bulls of St. Louis Uni-versity will clash at 3 p.m. in a nine-inning contest.

Coach Bo Collins of SIUE has his Cougars off to the best start in the school's illustrious baseball history: 3 and 0.

Saturday, the Cougars romped over the Bears of McKendree College at SIUE, winning the first game in a "taughers," 10-3, behind the slugging of veteran center-fielder, George Vogel, and catcher Scott Wilkerson, and in the ninth inning on a dramatic three-run double by designated hitter Danny McKeen.

Danny's three-run bagger broke up a 1-1 game in the sixth frame when, with two out and the bases loaded, he drove in three tallies to make the game's final score, 4-1.

McKendree's coach, Van Smith, who has had tough luck beating the Cougars over the years, was visibly annoyed in Saturday's first game when SIUE pulled "the hidden ball trick." SIUE's clever shortstop, Jackie Baugher from Tammis, Ill., secreted the ball and tagged the Bears' catcher at second base when he strayed off the sack. Smith was unhappy.

The Cougars' brilliant start in the 1983 campaign was led off by their outstanding 8-5 victory over the University of Missouri Tigers two weeks ago down at Columbia. In that season opener, Granite City's Tom Greco smashed a three-run homer. George Vogel also unloaded a four-bagger against Mizou. SIUE's star-batter, Scott Wilkerson, was off to a brilliant start; two of three and four walks.

He's dived in five runs.

The Cougars' Tom Greco, 21, of Granite City, is hitting a staggering .375 in the first three games. Greco, the Cougar's first baseman, has scored four times, hitting a home run, a double and knocking in three runs.

Tim Gamble, ex-Edwardsville High star, who will be in right field for the Cougars, has clobbered one homer and, judging from his five stolen bases against McKendree, may be headed for a SIUE record in that category. Another ex-Edwardsville prep star, Dan Allaria, an apparent fixture at the hot corner, has racked up a pair of crucial doubles.

Terry Cochran, a junior college transfer from Jefferson County via Hancock High, appears to have won the second base slot for the Cougars. He collected three hits in the first game against McKendree.

After tomorrow's game against St. Louis U., the Cougars will head south for New Mexico. They'll travel by Amtrack, the first time nearly all the Cougars ever set foot on a train.

with a southpaw starts for the opposition: center field, George Vogel; and right field, Tim Gamble.

The Cougars' two designated hitters will be Ritzheimer and Brian Kabbes against right-handers and John Gibson when a southpaw is in the mound.

Collins' mound corps, who he hopes will better last year's impressive 34-21 record, will be: Scott Schaffer, Columbia, Ill.; Dave Smith, Teutopolis, Ill.; Kent Gray, St. Louis; Kent Taylor, Fairfield, Ill.; and junior, Jim Scheibel, the SIUE (Ron Middleton) second-hurrier to post a no-hitter.

Following registration at 10 a.m., persons are invited to attend an informational meeting on the coming season.

The following Saturday, March 26, the Granite City Park District will begin registering youths for the coming baseball season.

Baseball registration, too, is at the Brown Recreation Center from 8 until 10 a.m. Similarly, an informational meeting will follow registration.

Parents are asked to bring with them when registering a copy of their child's birth certificate and proof of residency, such as a current utility bill.

"It'll be nice to see some of the old guys again," Deterding said. "Although, I don't know how many of the guys I played with will actually see action. I think they'll, myself included, will just enjoy putting the uniform on again. We'll probably leave most of the playing up to the young bucks."

Deterding and the list of ex-Kahoks which include Reggie Redmon, Dennis Page, Bob Bone, Mike and Marc Fletcher, both Joe Ossola Jr. and Sr., Ray Sonnenberg and Frank Pitot to name a few, will meet Big Red members O. J. Anderson, Rusty Lisch, Roy Green, E. J. Junior, John Gillen, Doug Marsh and Willard Harrell.

ACCIDENT RESULTS IN VENICE DUI ARREST

A Venice man was arrested for driving while under the influence (DUI) of intoxicating liquor and failing to yield the right-of-way at an intersection following an accident Monday at 4:30 p.m.

Venice police arrested James E. Duckett, 35, of 121 Grenzer Homes, Madison, after he allegedly struck a vehicle driven by James Padovani, 53, of 2820 Forest Ave. Police alleged that Duckett was swaying as he stood outside his vehicle and they noticed a strong odor of alcohol when they approached him.

Padovani told police that he was driving on Broadway over the viaduct towards Madison when a car "shot out" in front of him and he hit its right side.

Duckett said he was at a stop sign at Broadway and Market Street when he pulled out and was struck by Padovani's vehicle.

Duckett was released after posting his driver's license, $200 cash bond and given a notice to appear in court.

Conference available for unemployed adults

Unemployed adults from the St. Louis metropolitan area are invited to a free "Coping with Unemployment" conference at St. Louis Community College at Forest Park, from 8:45 a.m. to 3 p.m., Wednesday, March 16.

Sponsored by the Metropolitan Re-employment Project, the conference will include exhibits from more than 50 community agencies, schools and hospitals, and group sessions on such topics as career readjustment, job hunting, resume preparation, financial planning, marital-family conflicts, time management, stress reduction and how to find inexpensive medical and legal assistance.

KMOX Radio personality Art Fleming will open the conference with a motivational talk, followed by morning and afternoon sessions on coping with the various physical and psychological problems of being unemployed.

"The conference will provide a one-stop smorgasbord of agencies and organizations with services for laid-off workers," said Mike Maguire, director of the Metropolitan Re-employment Project. "For example, we know that unemployed people have higher incidences of depression, alcohol and drug usage, marital stress and trouble with paying bills."

"But many of these laid-off workers don't know what resources are available to them or where to go for help. We've set up an all-in-one place, all-in-one-day conference with some outstanding programs so unemployed people won't have to run all over town to get the help they need."

Participants will pick from more than 20 sessions on problems encountered during unemployment, such as "How Do I Go About Changing Careers," "How Can I Stretch My Dollars for the Things I Need," "How Do I Prepare a Resume," "How Can I as a Woman Deal with My Special Problems," "How Can I Enjoy My Family and Spouse While Unemployed," and "How Do I Handle a Job Interview."

People worried about paying their utility bills while unemployed will be able to talk to representatives from Laclede Gas, Southwestern Bell Telephone and Union Electric; and information on legal aid and assistance will be available from Legal Services of Eastern Missouri.

A public health educator from the St. Louis City Health Division will address "How Do I Take Care of My Medical Needs" and three volunteers from the Hyland Center at St. Anthony's Medical Center will also conduct free blood pressure screening. A representative from the St. Louis University Medical Center Department of Health Promotion will offer information on "How Do I Deal With Stress."

Retraining possibilities will be covered by numerous schools, universities and technical colleges, such as Barnes Hospitals School of Nursing, Brown's Business and Secretarial School, Ranken Technical School, Maryville College, the University of Missouri-St. Louis and Webster College, in addition to the St. Louis Community College programs, careers for homemakers and the Metropolitan Re-employment Project.

Maguire said retraining will ultimately be the answer for most of the 50,000 laid-off manufacturing workers in the St. Louis area. "Retraining for better re-employment in the future will become a survival strategy," he emphasized. "People will find they need to make their skills more negotiable in order to get a job."

The "Coping with Unemployment" Conference is patterned after a national model first developed in the Detroit area at Henry Ford Community College. More than 1,100 displaced workers attended the first "Where Do We Go From Here?" conference in June 1982. Three more conferences are planned, drawing more than 2,550 displaced Detroit workers.

Maguire hopes for an equally successful conference in St. Louis and urges unemployed adults to call 1-314-644-9786 for more information and to sign up for the conference. Cosponsors of the conference are St. Louis Community College at Forest Park and the Institute for Continuing Education.

Alleges DUI driver hits three autos

A police sergeant on patrol at Niedringhaus and Washington avenues at 2:13 a.m. Wednesday reported hearing a loud crash and turned into Washington Avenue in time to see a yellow vehicle spinning around in the street. The auto had allegedly struck three vehicles, parked in the 2200 block of Washington Avenue.

Danny E. Makina, 30, of 1038 Third St., Venice, the driver, was staggering around, the officer alleged, and a woman passenger, Cheryl A. Turner, 20, of 2136 Carlson Ave., had been injured.

Miss Turner was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she was admitted for treatment and was reported in satisfactory condition.

Both a male passenger and the driver alleged the vehicle had been traveling south on Washington Avenue at a high rate of speed; it was reported.

Makina refused any medical attention and, at police headquarters, also declined to take a breath test. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

At that point, he complained of having a headache and was taken to the medical center, where he was treated and released.

Makina was released from police custody after posting a $102 cash bond. Vehicles reported struck by Makina's car belonged to Talmadge Hawkins, 2223 Washington Ave., Janice Vandergriff, 2220 Missouri Ave., and Raymond Valencia, 2215 Washington Ave.

Amvets Auxiliary 51 supports legislation

During a meeting of Amvets Auxiliary 51, a letter was read from Judy A. Moore by Secretary Charlotte Torregrossa. Mrs. Moore is the Ladies Auxiliary Liaison from the Department of Veterans Affairs and wrote in regard to pending federal legislation, Bill H.R. 103, sponsored by Congressman Bob Edgar of Pennsylvania, and currently being considered by the U.S. Congress in Washington, D.C. If passed, H.R. 103 will increase the amount of federal reimbursement to the nation's state veterans homes for residential, skilled nursing and acute nursing care provided to aging World War I and World War II veterans.

This legislation is vitally important to the Illinois Veterans Home in Quincy, Ill., which was founded in 1887, and has served thousands of Illinois veterans and their spouses from eight wars and conflicts and is one of the largest state homes in the nation. Mr. Moore asked that all local and area posts write to the U.S. Senators Percy and Dixon and local congressman to indicate strong support of Bill H.R. 103.

The Quincy Veterans Home needs the additional federal funding to supplement dwindling state funds to insure the highest quality care for our veterans. Mrs. Moore explained.

Betty Wilkins, president and also Americanism Chairman, discussed getting all of the local grade schools involved in a pledge of allegiance day on April 29, the last school day of April. She reported that she will seek permission from the school board before contacting the individual schools.

Senior vice-president, Barbara Siebert announced that the auxiliary had another new member and introduced Mary Cory, who was later sworn in by President Wilkins.

Jenny Kidwell, junior vice-president, reminded the members of the upcoming visitation to the Madison County Sheltered Care Home for the monthly ice cream social given by the auxiliary for the residents and announced that a St. Patrick's Day theme will be carried out.

S.O.S. chairman, Shirley Schienschang, reported going to the U.S.O. at Lambert Field to deliver a large quantity of assorted snack foods. The auxiliary makes regularly scheduled visitations to deliver snack food items on the third Monday of every month. Mrs. Schienschang also reported that the U.S.O. facilities have been greatly enlarged to accommodate the large number of servicemen and servicemen's families who pass through the airport on a daily basis.

A game party for the hospitalized veterans at John Cochran Hospital, St. Louis, was attended by Auxiliary 51 members Betty Wilkins, Barbara Siebert, Charlotte Torregrossa, Don-

Elkettes plan installation

Marian Mertz, chairman of the nominating committee of the Elkettes Club, presented a slate of officers for election, which were accepted unanimously, at the March meeting. Plans were then formulated to hold the installation ceremonies on April 5 at the Elks Lodge, 1329 Niedringhaus Ave.

President Jo Ann Yetter presided at the session and Chaplain Karmyn Edmonds offered the opening prayer. Plans were also discussed for the annual mother-daughter banquet scheduled for Tuesday, May 3. ## War on Hunger fails to win local support

By GEORGEANN MCGEE of the Press-Record

The war on hunger three Venice residents declared four weeks ago came to a halt last Friday. With dwindling funds, lack of helpers and an unanswered call for a church to offer its kitchen or dining facilities for the free breakfast and supper program, the project ended.

Only two weeks into the program — begun on Valentine's Day — Venice Park District president, the Rev. John Henry Williams, and Park Board Member Earl Hogan, two of the three key organizers, dropped out of active participation when community financial and material support failed to materialize. They tried to persuade their third partner, Helen King, to quit, but she could not.

The group, which had dubbed itself the "Three Cs," for concerned citizens, had tentatively planned to keep hot meals coming to the Venice Newport area's elderly, disabled and unemployed until Good Friday, April 1.

But Mrs. King had hoped that after four weeks, a church would open its hall as a preparation and serving area.

When that did not happen, she decided that four weeks was all her limited budget would allow her to stay in operation. Still, Mrs. King feels she achieved a portion of her goal. "To me it's been very successful because I know the people appreciated what they received," she said.

When that did not happen, she decided that four weeks was all her limited budget would allow her to stay in operation. Still, Mrs. King feels she achieved a portion of her goal. "To me it's been very successful because I know the people appreciated what they received," she said.

Rev. Williams commented, "We helped quite a few people. When funds ran out next winter, when she hopes to try the program again."

obvious. Mrs. King's brother had to give her $20 last week for breakfast supplies and the Rev. Williams donated three dozen eggs. For the evening meal, some of the people receiving the dinners donated canned goods. "The fish man gave me some fish. One alderman gave me some beans and corn."

Few contributors came to the aid of the Three Cs, and of the handful of small donations received, only a few were repeaters. The organizers had not planned a fund-raising, drive, rather depending on word-of-mouth and word-of-mouth to residents and businesses.

She thinks help failed to come from Venice-Newport churches, since many of the ministers live out of town, making community involvement difficult.

"Is it something that the people didn't want to help?" Mrs. King wondered about the lack of response. "Or is it the area?"

Rev. Williams commented, "We helped quite a few people. When funds ran out next winter, when she hopes to try the program again."

Tuition at SIUE will rise 10%

Southern Illinois University's tuition rates will go up by approximately 10 percent this summer, a level rarely achieved since the university's need-based resources. SI officials decided Thursday.

Meeting in Carbondale, the board of trustees approved the hikes while deploring statewide financial problems that make them necessary.

The board's rationale noted that "access to higher education, long a major goal of the state, surely is limited by repeated tuition increases."

Higher tuition rates — first considered by the board during its February meeting — are in line with recommendations by the Illinois Board of Higher Education in its proposed higher education budget for the coming fiscal year.

The IBHE guideline calls for public universities to provide $13.7 million of recommended budget funds through 10 percent tuition hikes.

The new rates will take effect with upcoming summer sessions at the SIU at Carbondale and SIU at Edwardsville campuses.

Under the new tuition schedule, undergraduate students will pay an additional $9 a year, for an annual tuition of $1,056, while medical students will pay $3,729 a year (up $339).

Undergraduate students at SIU at Edwardsville will pay an additional $84 a year (to total $882 for three terms of study), graduate students will pay $945 a year (up $87), and students in the School of Dental Medicine will pay $1,734, an increase of $159.

Governor to discuss budget and taxing proposals tomorrow

Governor James R. Thompson will be the featured speaker at a special membership meeting of Southern Illinois Inc., Tuesday, March 15, in Marion, where he will address the state's budget for Fiscal Year 1984.

The luncheon event is open to the public. Tickets costing $7 a person are available from Southern Illinois Inc., Post Office Box 327, Energy, Ill., or by calling 1-983-8322.

Governor Thompson will speak from 12:30 to 1 p.m., followed by a question and answer session.

"I appreciate this opportunity to speak to the people of Southern Illinois personally and spell out my plans for the economic recovery and development of Illinois over the next four years," Thompson commented.

He will outline his suggestions for correcting the state's economic woes in a speech entitled "State Issues and the Proposed Budget for FY '84."

He calls his budget proposal "Unacceptable to the people of Illinois," since it includes severe cuts in several crucial areas of state spending. He is asking the General Assembly to enact tax increases this year to meet spending obligations in FY '84, restore threatened state programs and ensure future spending levels to avoid further cuts in state services.

A Venice public school teacher has been suspended for 30 days without pay, effective March 2, for an incident occurring Feb. 28. The action was approved by the Board of Education last week.

The board decision did not identify the faculty member.

It was alleged that a nine-year-old girl fell asleep while being shown to a group of pupils.

When the class ended and other students departed, a classroom door was locked; it was a type of door that can be opened from the inside without a key.

The teacher felt it was necessary to lock the door to prevent youngsters outdoors in time for them to catch a bus after school. While outdoors, the teacher mentioned what had occurred to the principal, who disagreed with the action and recalls saying, "No, don't do that," instructing that what had been done be reversed.

Instead, the teacher left for home. Others entered the classroom 15 minutes after the end of school to awaken the still asleep.

This week has been designated "Employ the Older Worker Week" to draw attention to the wealth of resources older workers have to offer. A joint Congressional resolution calls upon "employers and unions of the United States to give special attention to the older worker, with a view toward expanding career and employment opportunities for older workers who are willing and able to work and who desire to remain in or re-enter the workforce."

In addition, its sponsors want the United States Department of Labor to give special assistance to older workers by developing job training programs under the new Job Training Partnership Act, which contains a three percent funding set-aside for economically disadvantaged older workers, and by advocating for the continuance of the U.S. Department of Labor Title V Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP).

SCSEP created the SCSEF in 1973 to convert the older worker demonstration projects into permanent, ongoing national programs to provide employment and training opportunities for low-income persons 55 or older who would otherwise have a difficult time in finding employment in the private sector. The training was designed to prepare older Americans for eventually obtaining employment in the private sector, so that more individuals could participate in Title V.

The services aspect is also an important component of the SCSEF. The underlying rationale was to enable low-income older Americans to gain the skills and experience of others in their community.

The committee, which began forming in fall, 1982, reported on funding, membership, issues and governance proposed for the not-for-profit confuence.

After last Saturday's hearing on the committee's findings, confuence leaders plan to start recruiting and fund-raising campaigns in April in St. Louis city and county, St. Charles, Franklin and underwritten by Missouri and Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties in Illinois.

The committee's recommendations included:

-Election of 35 directors to three-year terms, to be headed by a president.

-Hiring a salaried executive director and leasing of office quarters.

-A first-year goal of 600 to 700 members, with individual and family dues.

-Fund-raising of $380,000 during the first three years of the organization.

"We also outlined criteria for studying, coordinating, and launching action on or supporting regional issues in the area of health care, public improvements and governmental cooperation to education, economy or environmental protection," said Dee A. Joyner, confuence steering committee chairman.

Arrest woman from Tennessee

Elizabeth I. McClean, 20, of Indian Mound, Tenn., was arrested at 4:10 p.m. Saturday at the Curve Inn Tavern, 2618 Missouri Ave., on warrants alleging battery, aggravated assault and misdemeanor theft.

The charges stemmed from an incident on March 3 when Connie Converse, 20, of Washington Ave., reported allowing Miss McClean to stay overnight at her home and allegedly striking Mrs. Converse's face with a fist. Officers noted that Mrs. Converse had a cut and abrasions on her right eye.

Shortly afterward, in front of 2015 Washington, Miss McClean allegedly displayed a pocket knife and placed it on Mrs. Converse, allegedly threatening to cut her. It was reported by the victim. Witnesses were reported present at that time.

Bond on the three charges was set at $4,500.

He resides in Country Club Estates with his wife, Mary Ann, who is GCHS South vocal music teacher, and his two sons, William Jr. and Christopher.

'CYCLE FRAME GONE' The black and chrome frame of a Honda motorcycle and a bucket of 'cycle parts were stolen from outside the dwelling of Mildred Rippee, 1308 Meridian Ave., and taken to the home of a neighbor on Saturday. A neighbor reported seeing a man with blond hair wearing a leather jacket get out of a white over blue auto, parked on 13th Street, walk to the Rippee house and remove several items.
